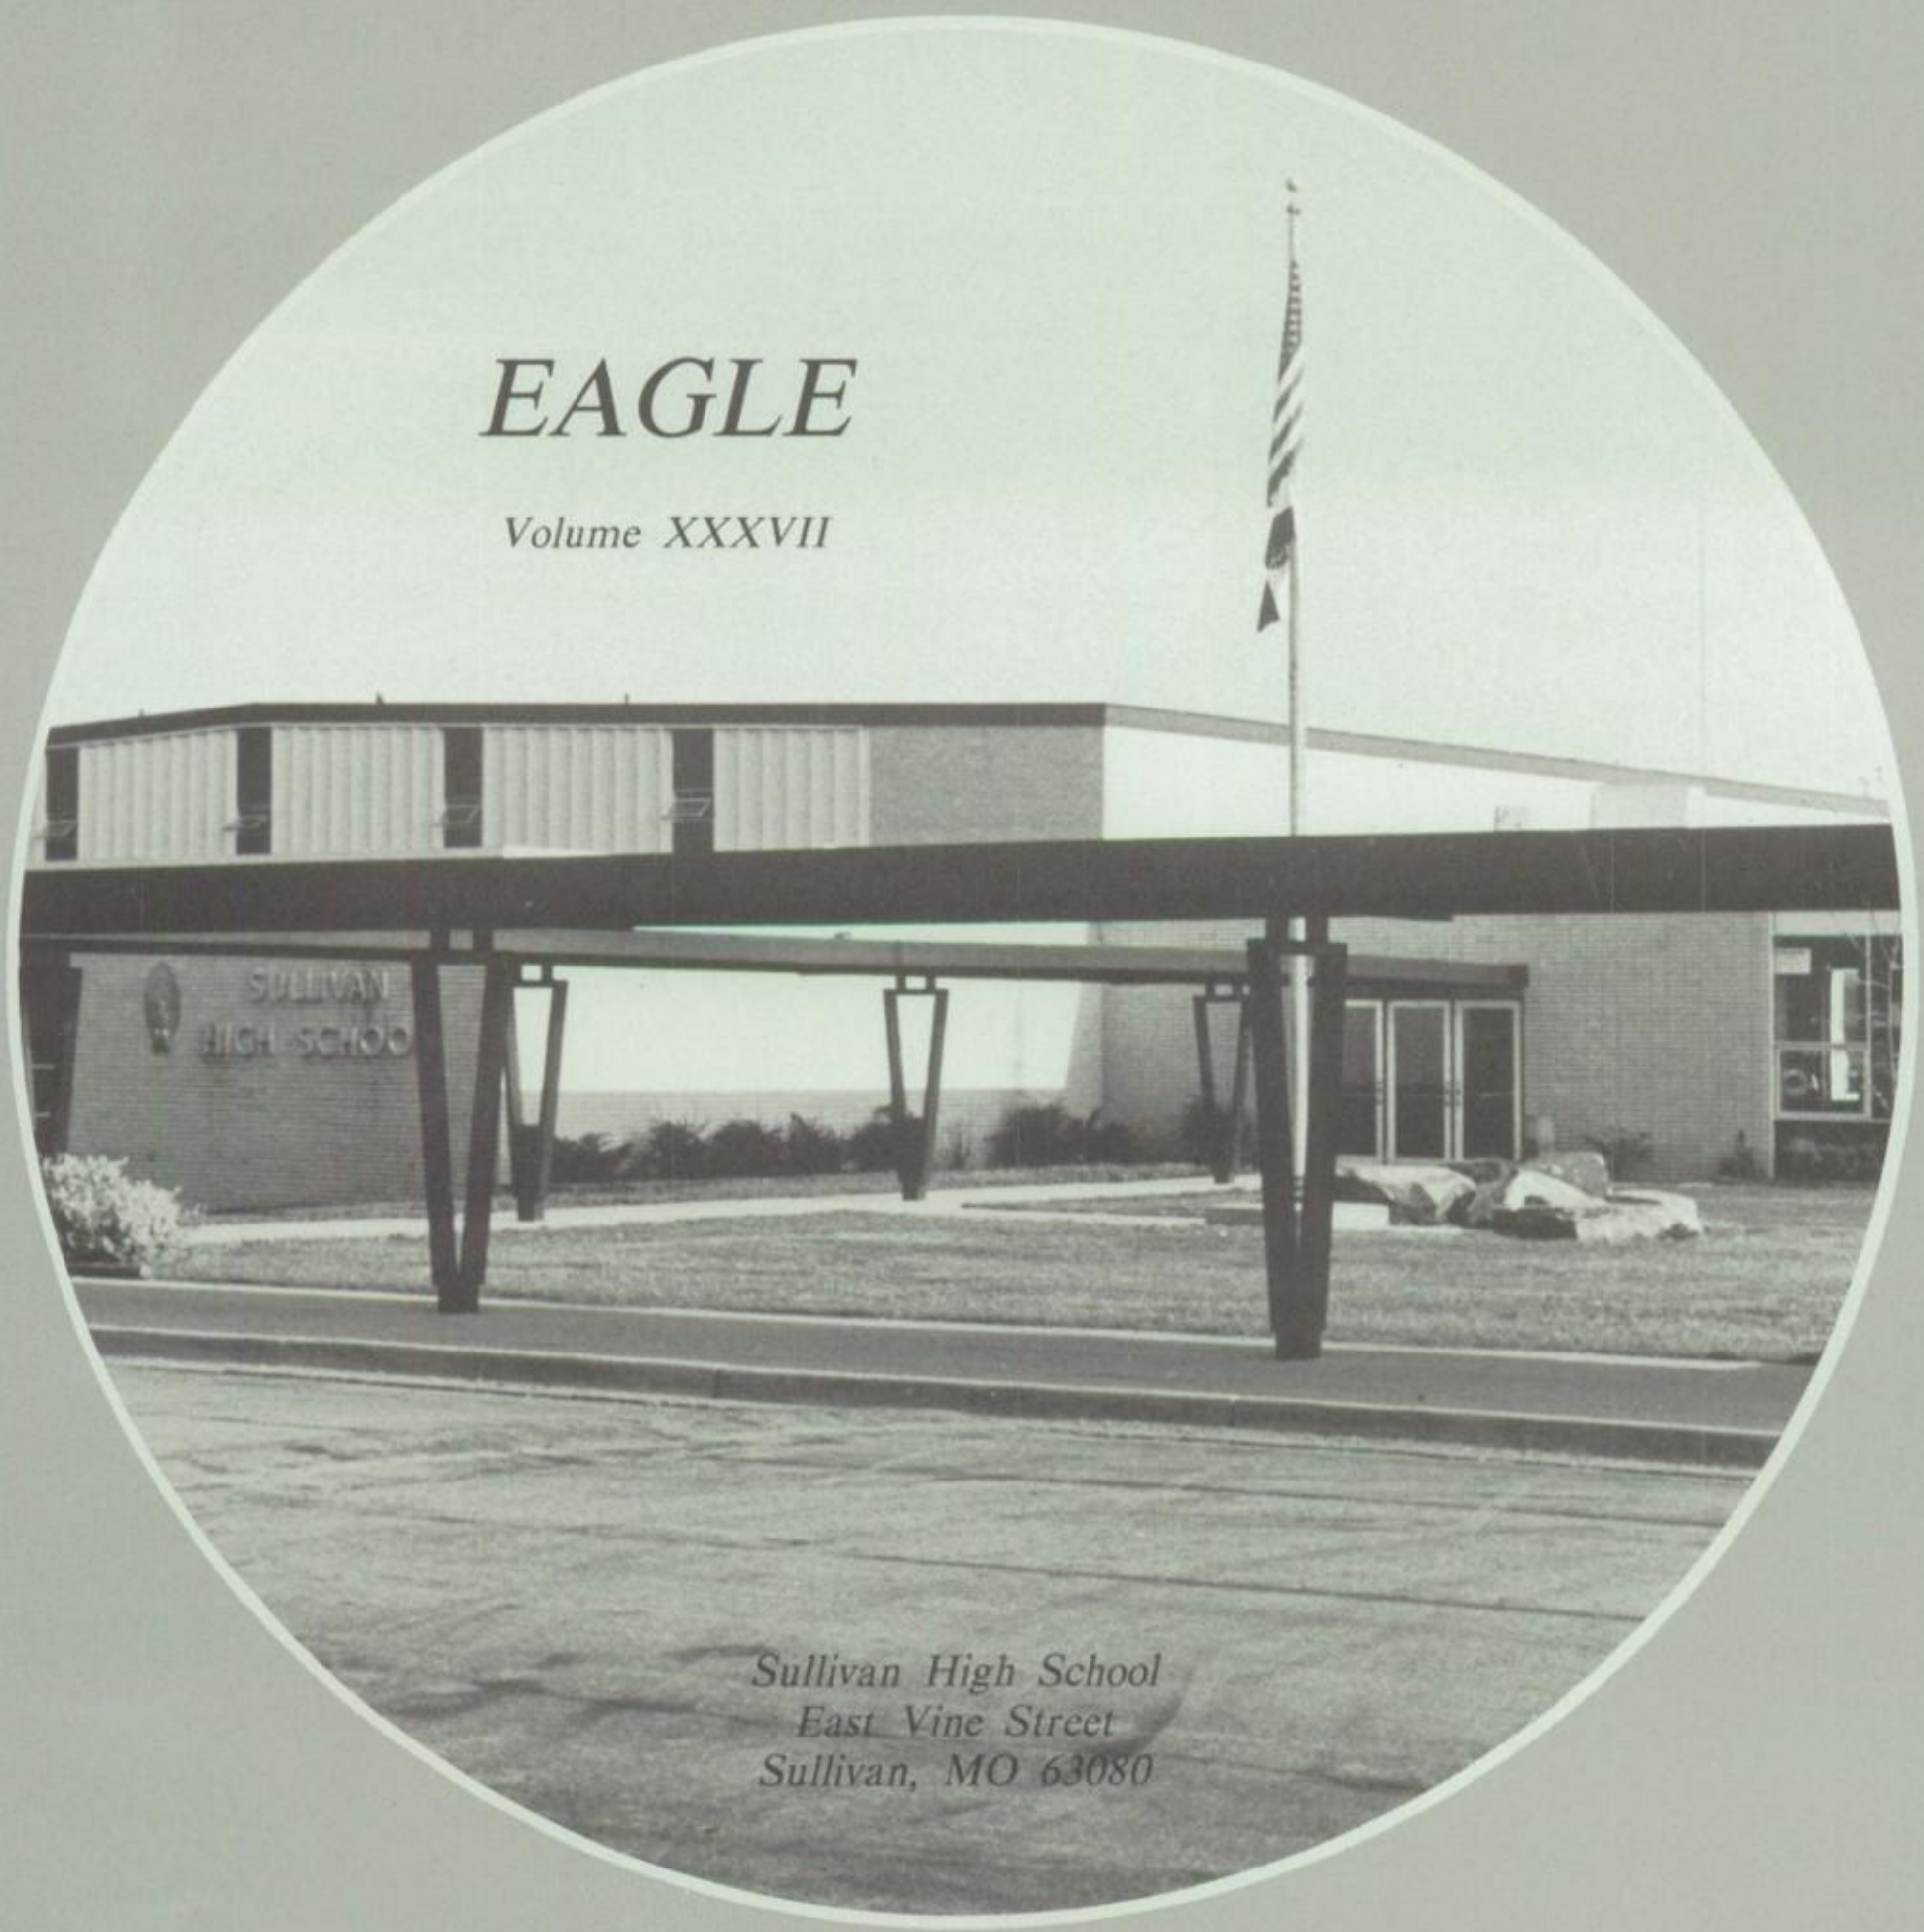
EAGLE

Volume XXXVII



Sullivan High School
East Vine Street
Sullivan, MO 63080

The 1984-85 year was filled with many great activities. Beginning with the Ice Breaker dance, and ending with the graduated seniors returning from their trip to Florida, something was going on at all times.

Wanna' Be Starting Somethin'

The plays, sporting events, dances, and concerts all added to the activities available for students to either participate in or view from the audience.

The many clubs and organizations at SHS provided opportunities for students to become involved and further their association with their special interests. From the foreign language clubs which provide cultural experiences, to FFA which gives practical knowledge, the clubs helped make students well-rounded.

Perhaps the most influential club was Student Council, or STUCO. STUCO organized the homecomings, coronations, dances, computer dating, and the Valentine's Day carnation sale.

In many ways, this was the 'almost' year. The boys' football team finished 7-2 and barely missed the playoffs. The varsity volleyball team finished third in the district and second in the St. Clair and Hermann tournaments.

Can't Slow Down

The varsity boys' basketball team lost the district championship game to St. Francis Borgia by one point. Finishing second in state 3-A cross-country competition was Andy Prater.

The winning continued into the spring with the track, golf, tennis, softball and baseball teams all building on their successes of the previous year.

The educational experience is very important at SHS. With excellent teachers who care about their students, and students who want to learn, SHS prepares its students for the future.

Working for the Weekend

This year SHS initiated three new policies: starting school at 8:00 a.m., beginning classes after Labor Day, and changing from six classes to a seven period day. They were all successes, although some students had difficulty with the work for the extra class and others with getting up before dawn.

Another change was the reduction in force/reduction in programs policy which the entire school district was under. Two hundred thousand dollars worth of teachers' salaries, per diem pay, and extra duty pay were cut. At least eight teachers will not be returning next year.

With the school year under-way, and people having ad-justed to high school life, there are some questions that keep burning at my brain:

1. Why do people walk on the wrong side of the hallway?
2. Why do people molest their lockers by kicking and cursing them? Wouldn't it be a lot easier to use the combination?
3. Why do we start school so earl-

"People saw everything from prep to punk, conservative to strange. Individuality played a major part in fashion this year." Emily Wensel

The year was full of good times. There were movies, concerts, and parties to attend. The weekends were packed with things to do. Friendships that will hopefully last forever were started.

Walking on a Thin Line

But life wasn't always easy and fun. Everyone grew up, or at least changed, during the year. The future loomed closer for the seniors, and important decisions had to be made. Long hours of study, frustration, and stress because of difficult classes were part of the year, also.

It was a year when we sold everything but the building from under us. Every class, club, and organization had something to sell to raise money. The seniors were allowed to sell candy bars and ornaments to earn money for their trip to Florida.

Through the bad times, our friends were there to help us until we reached the good times again.

This year was one of many changes. Two new clubs were formed; the E-Team and Students Against Driving Drunk. One was formed to recognize excellence, the other to save lives.

Change

The E-Team consists of students who make a 4.0 grade point average while carrying at least six classes. The charter members are Daxa Patel, Lori Scantlan, Julie Coleman, Dee Schildnect, Bruce Woodcock, Amy Turner, Heidi Betz, Emily Wensel, Mary Lucas, Becky Masters, Kelly King, Earla Hardecke, Glenda Hardecke, Mark Hughey, Lisa Blanton, Charlene Betz, Angie Martin, and Beth Turner. Sponsors are Mrs. Debbie Carroll, Miss Pat Bryan, and Mrs. Bernice Shaffer.

SADD was organized to help students save their own lives and the lives of others. They want to educate students about the dangers of driving while under the influence, and increase public awareness and prevention of this problem. They don't try to tell students not to drink. Their purpose is to keep them from driving if they've been drinking. Miss Cindy Scherrer was the hard working sponsor who tried to get students involved in SADD.

Other changes included the election of a king and a queen for Prom and Morp, and the construction of a new bridge at Meramec State Park.

The 1985 Eagle is dedicated to Mr. L. Keith Kinder

Mr. Keith Kinder has always been available to SHS students. During his six years as assistant principal, and the three as principal, he is always within reach. He somehow manages to know the name of every high school student by the second week of school. He often stops to discuss with students their problems, responsibilities, and activities.

He is involved. Hardly a sporting event, concert, or activity goes by that he does not attend. At times, he has come into math classes and taught the lesson. He was a high school math teacher and teaches college-level math courses for East Central College now.

His sense of humor, intelligence, and kindness have earned the respect of SHS students and the community. He has a lot of class.

Thank you, Mr. Kinder, for all that you do. We proudly dedicate to you this yearbook.

LET'S GO CRAZY

ACTIVITIES

I'm So Excited!

The students at SHS eagerly await football homecoming, the first really big event of the school year.

A lot of important decisions must be made before Homecoming can become a reality. Even before school started, plans were in motion. The Student Council met at their summer workshop and made as many decisions as were possible for the homecoming activities. When school started and homecoming week rolled around, the finishing touches were made.

The float theme was television commercials. The juniors took first place in the float competition.

The Friday of Homecoming, during the last minutes of seventh hour, students were dismissed for a pep assembly. The assembly helped to boost the excitement of the students and the football players.

Friday evening, all of the hard work and determination paid off. The SHS Eagles put another victory under their belt, and Chrissy Anderson was crowned homecoming queen.

Dancing in the Streets

Susan Tiefenbrunn, Jeannie Susnic, Mary Dieckhaus, Chara Cuneio, Shelly Pryor, Trina Weiskopf, Shelly Marquart, Stacey Blankenship, and Nikki D'Isa make up the queen and her court for the 1985 Basketball Homecoming.

The Basketball Homecoming was a big success for several reasons. First of all, the game with New Haven was won; secondly, the dance was a high flying success; and thirdly, there were lovely candidates for queen.

Throughout the night, the students became increasingly expectant about the queen election. As the game progressed, tension kept mounting until, finally, at halftime, the new queen's name was announced: Shelly Pryor.

After the game, the dancing started, and lasted until after midnight when the last, cresendoing song was over. It was not a night soon to be forgotten.

The Icebreaker Dance "breaks" into action to start out the first activity of the 1984-85 school year. The Icebreaker Dance gives the students a chance to get reacquainted after the long summer vacation and to initiate the freshmen into the student life of the high school.

This year's dance was held on September 8 and was sponsored by Student Council. The music was performed by the sound system Ace's High.

The Future Farmers of America Chapter at SHS is one of the biggest organizations in the school. Led by Mr. Kramme and Mr. Freeman, the club members learn about farming and life as a farmer. Each member is required to have a project; an animal, a garden, etc. They then have to report periodically on the growth of that project.

This year, SHS had two of its members named State Farmers. They were John McDonald and Jerry Butyenek, who was also the SHS chapter president. Jill Bristow, Randy Piezuch, and Matt Volkman were all named Area State Farmers. The Sullivan chapter received three state awards: BOAC (Building Our American Communities), Superior Chapter, and Safety. Mary Schatz was named Area Treasurer.

FHA again made the yearly Barnwarmin' dance a huge success. A large crowd attended to enjoy the informal occasion. People could be seen jumping up and down, shouting for more, and dancing as well as sliding in and throwing hay.

Students came in western attire complete with cowboy boots and hats.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the new queen.

Do You Believe in Magic?

When the house lights dimmed, the curtains rose, and the actors took the stage, magic was born in the SHS Cafeteria last fall. For one solid hour, the audience shared in the hopes, the dreams, and the despairs of teenage life. "Voices: Lost and Found," directed by Mr. Russell Becherer, ran for two solid nights of Eagle magic.

The cast included Becky Blankenship, Greg Cox, Perry Walker Allen, Richy Roberts, Brian Lawrence, Eric Matlock, Jennifer McDonald, Debbie Pfeiffer, Rachel Pondrom, Shelly Pryor, Ellen Schmidt, Sean Tice, Steve Tiefenbrunn, Beth Turner, Kyle Vogt, and Dean Wigger.

Scenes in the production included ones with Shelly Pryor and Brian Lawrence as two teenagers discussing the future, and Dean Wigger speaking frankly about teenage suicide. "Voices: Lost and Found" was about everyday kids and everyday problems. It wasn't an ordinary play — it was better. It broke new ground in the way the audience, as well as the actors, perceived the problems of teenagers.

Rock for All Ages

From pop rock when you're young to hard rock when you're a teenager to soft or adult rock when you're an adult, there is a rock for all ages.

Although the Sullivan High School bands didn't pick many rock songs for their selections, they did use many other types of music. From classic to jazz to modern, they played it all.

The marching band took third place at the Washington Marching Festival and thirteenth place at the Music Bowl in Warrensburg.

Jazz band received a two rating for its performance at the Rolla Jazz Festival this year.

time to leave Munchkinland
and dance down the yellow brick road
Oz has all the answers
if you can get to Emerald City, be brave, be wise, be loving and remember There's no place like home.

SPORTS

This year's varsity volleyball team began practicing in August with one fun week of summer camp and then got down to business with the real thing. Hours of hard work and determination were put forth by each individual to try to make this year's team a successful one.

Lap after lap, mile after mile, Coach Cindy Carlton conditioned the team for what was to be a challenging season. The competition for the Lady Eagles was tough with one of their conference teams placing third in 3A Division and a district team placing second in 3A Division at state.

The hundreds of miles logged under summer's hot sun reaped great benefits for the 1984 edition of SHS's Cross Country Team. It captured the school's first ever district championship and placed 14 in state competition.

This year's team was led by Andy Prater, Robert Lawrence, and Rodney Woodruff. Andy Edwards, Darren Williams, and Mark Appenzeller added much needed depth to the squad.

The highlight of the 1984 season was winning the district championship. Robert Lawrence captured the individual district championship, and Andy finished second for an exciting 1-2 Sullivan finish. Rodney Woodruff had his best race of the year as he finished 7 overall.

The team represented SHS fantastically at state, with Andy Prater finishing second out of nearly 200 athletes. Robert Lawrence also had a fine state meet, finishing 36.

The team was guided by Mr. Dave Granneman, who did a great job. In his first year as coach, he spurred the team to its best finish ever.

Varsity Girls 'Jump' for the Ball

This year's varsity girls basketball team started out with a jump on things and finished up with an over all record of 17 wins and 10 losses.

Coach Mueller helped the girls to play as well as expected, if not better.

At the St. Clair Tournament, the girls were seated fourth and finished the same. The Rolla Tournament was the high point of the year; the girls played outstanding basketball by beating St. James and Newburg to capture first place.

At Pacific, the girls were seated sixth in a tough tournament but again pulled an upset and beat Fort Zumwalt for the consolation trophy. In the District Tournament, the girls beat Salem and played a hard game against Borgia in the season finale.

Bernita Stubblefield and Gale Stack were selected First Team All-Conference, and Diane Huff received All-Conference Honorable Mention.

This year's freshman basketball team, coached by Dave Granneman, was characterized by speed, quickness, and hustle. The 9th grade Eagles were usually the smallest team on the floor, so they had to make up for the height difference. Several records were set by this year's squad including points in a quarter, 26 against Steelville, and points in a half, 44 against Steelville. Matt Hardy set two individual records this season, leading field goal percentage at 48 percent and free throw percentage at 83 percent. This year's season was truly successful as the Eagles battled their way to a fine 15-3 record.

SHS Track and Field Teams

The SHS track teams had an exceptional year which included hosting the Four Rivers Conference Track Meet and having three boys named to the All-State Track Team.

Andy Prater set a new school record in the 1600 meter run on the way to winning the event in state 3-A competition.

Robert Lawrence continued his superb running by finishing sixth in 1600 meter state competition and being named All-State with Andy Prater and Danny Benton. Danny placed second in state competition in the discus.

Valerie Gann was named All-Conference and finished eighth in sectional action in the 100 meter dash.

It had been 16 years since SHS had last hosted the conference track meet. SHS had a strong showing, with the boys team finishing third.

1985 was a year of transitions for the Lady Eagles. Due to graduation, the team lost many experienced and talented players from the previous year, which left the team very young. The teams only upperclassmen were Tricia Martin, Kim Roberts, and Mary Dieckhaus.

Mary Dieckhaus and Kim Roberts were voted as First Team All-Conference members, and Tammy Gallagher was voted as All-Conference Honorable Mention member.

To wrap up the season, Mary Dieckhaus was voted by the team members to receive the Booster Club's Players' Choice Award, and Tammy Gallagher was given a plaque for the batting champ. The award for the Most Valuable Player was given to Kim Roberts.

This year, a variety of events were sponsored by the department. Mrs. Busch's English II class felt what it's really like to be blind. They had to eat and find their way around the halls of the school while completely blindfolded. The drama department delivered a play which depicted many scenes between high school students. Many of the SHS' students are involved in such scenes and were easily able to relate to the play.

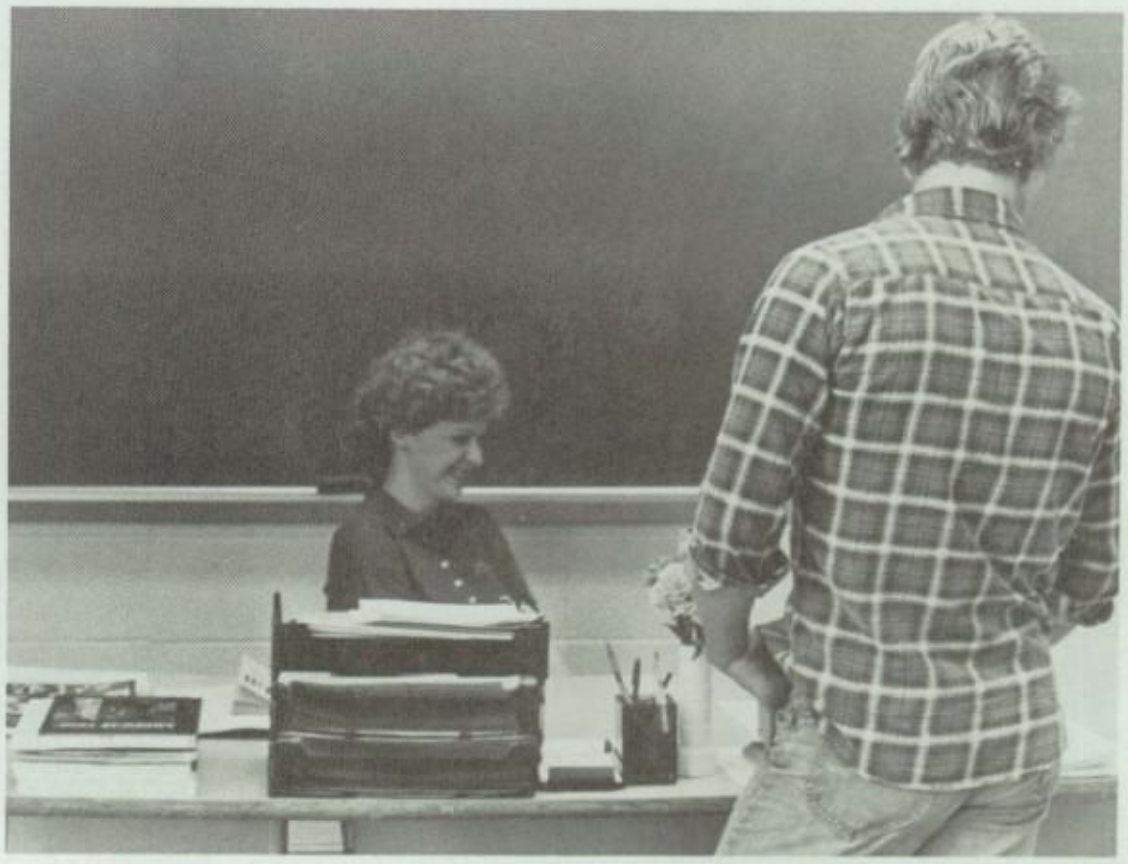
In some of the more difficult classes, students have to do research projects.

"Through the Years" the students have realized how important the study of history can be. At SHS, the student has a variety of courses to take, whether it is the basics of American History or the complexities of Social Behaviors and Psychology. The history courses offer good background information that the student will need in later life. There are other courses, which help students understand past and present such as Geography, Introduction to Social Science, Missouri History, and World History.

Mr. Largent teaches American History, ISS, World History, and is the baseball coach.

At the Free Fare concert, Mr. Bennett played CP30 and Matt Simmons portrayed R2D2.



Taking time out of her busy working schedule, Mrs. Carroll tells a funny joke.

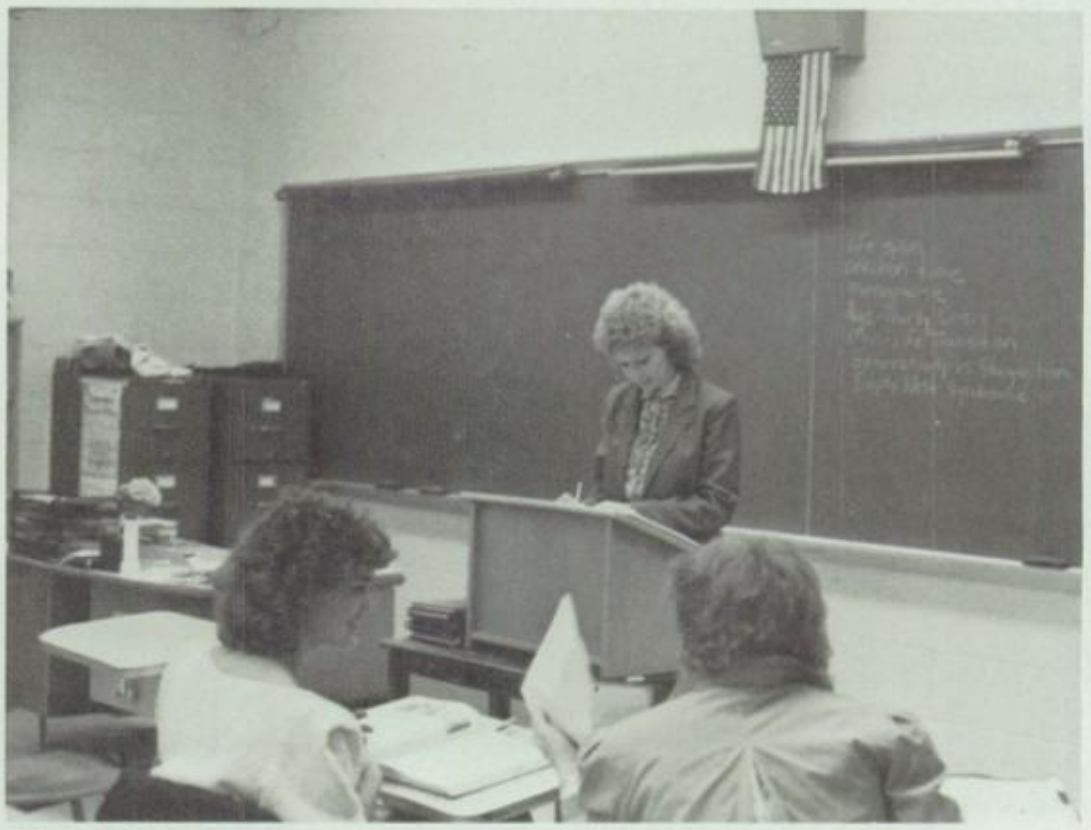
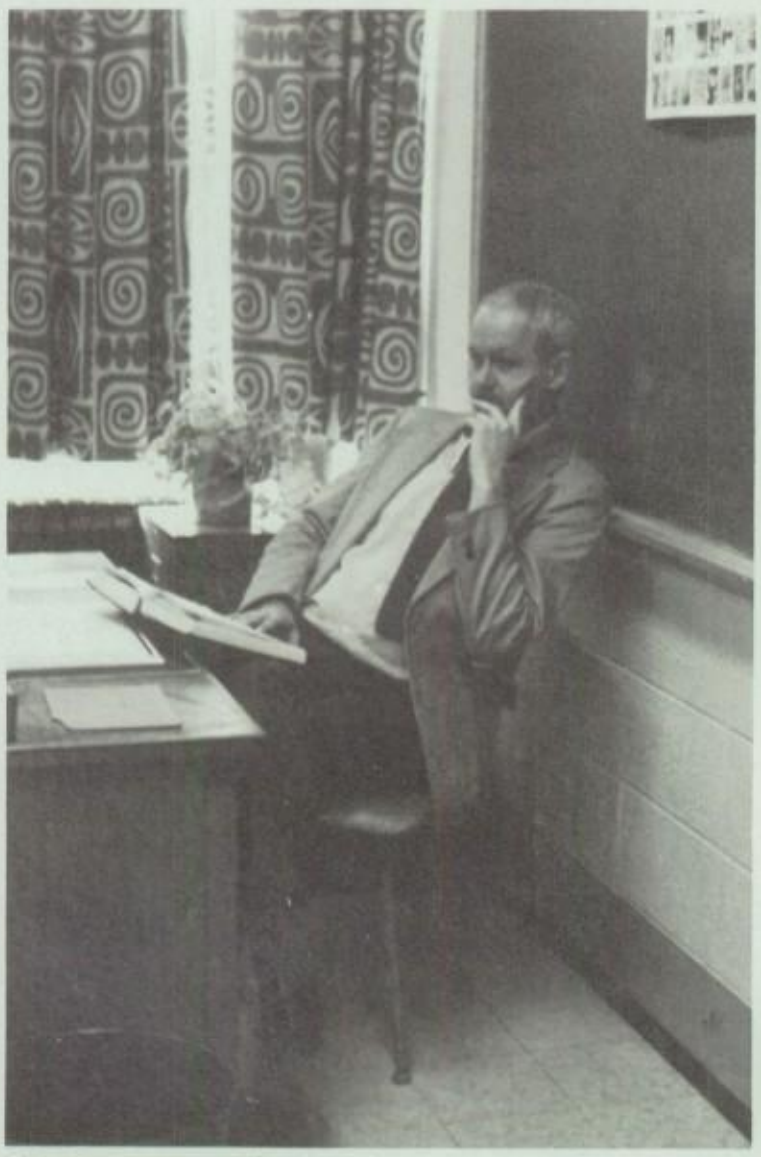
Mr. David Granneman teaches American History, geography, and Missouri History. He also coaches cross country, freshman basketball, and track.

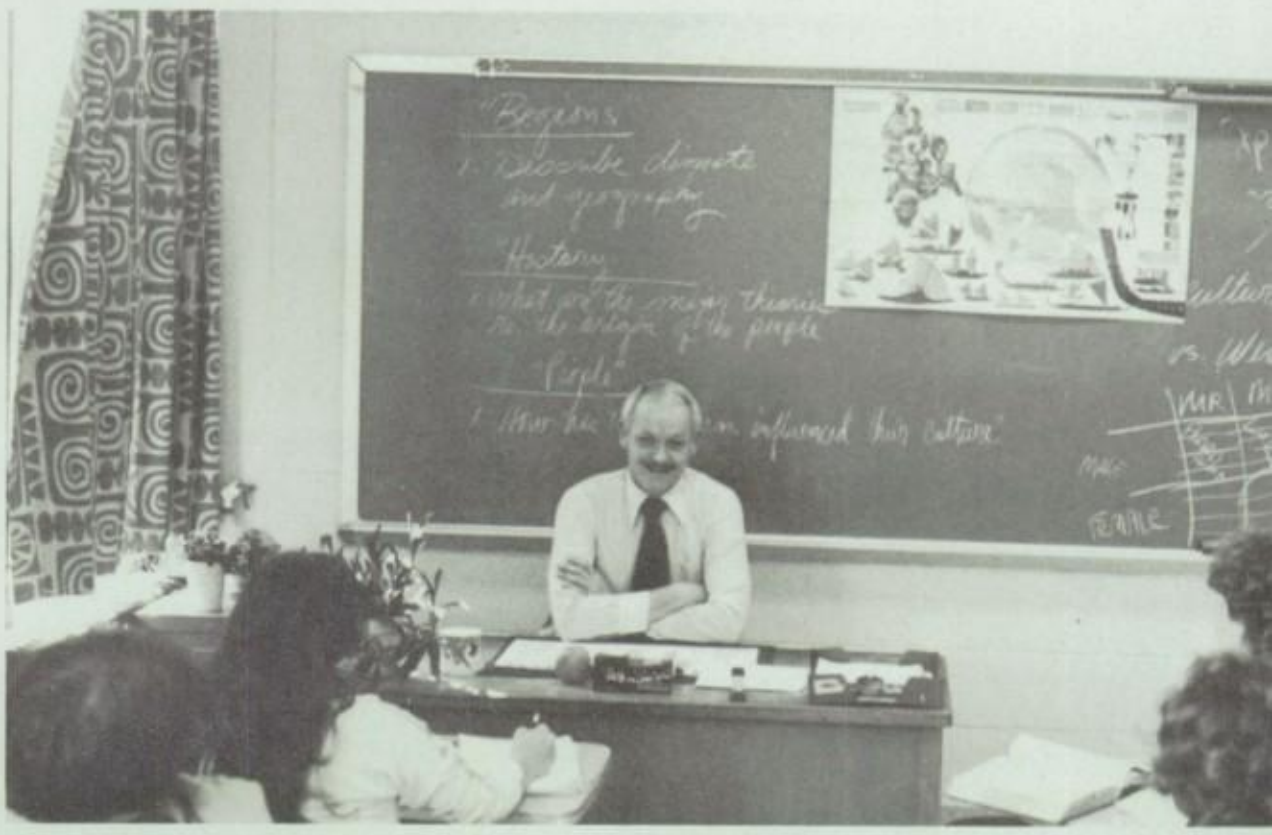
In Mrs. Carroll's ISS class, students learn ways of controlling each others' minds. (Is there something wrong here?)



Mrs. Debbie Carroll teaches two courses, Introduction to Social Science and psychology. She is also an E-Team sponsor.



Mr. Bennett watches his class take a test. No cheating allowed!



Mr. Tom Bennett teaches Social Behaviors, American History, and geography. He is also the photography club sponsor.

Taking care of business comes in many forms at SHS.

The counselors, Mr. Andy Benage, Mr. Ron Belew, and Mr. John Craig, guide and help the students with personal problems as well as academic problems. They help to prepare the students for their futures in college or in the working field.

Mrs. Bernice Shaffer teaches library science and sponsors cadet teaching as well as being the librarian. She is always there to help and offer advice on books for assignments and for pleasure.

Mrs. Rosetta Bohenkamp is always there to keep students in line and help out the secretaries in the office.

Mr. Kenneth Sassman maintains order in study hall and has long been a favorite in the halls of SHS.

These faculty members all do their part in 'taking care of business' at SHS.

Whip it Into Shape

The cooks play a very important role in our school every day. They plan, prepare, serve, and clean-up after each and every meal. Each Christmas they treat the students to punch and cookies, and, at Halloween, they dress up in costumes. Our friendly cafeteria and snack bar staffs worked hard to make certain that no one went hungry, and it was always service with a smile.

Another group necessary to keep things running smoothly at SHS is the custodians. They are here early in the morning and often late into the evening to keep the school clean. When walking down the halls of SHS, students can be proud of our clean school thanks to the hard-working janitorial staff.

CLASSES

This One's For You

We gladly dedicate the senior section of this year's Eagle to Miss Cindy Carlton. She has been the sponsor of the Class of 1985 for four years. This equals the number of years she has taught here.

Miss Carlton is a great organizer. She has helped the class achieve things that had seemed impossible before, like making it possible for the class to take a trip to Florida after graduation. A good teacher, a hard-working sponsor, and a great friend, Miss Carlton has definitely influenced the lives of all she has touched.

The Class of 1985 would like to thank Miss Carlton for her leadership and wish her the best of luck in her future endeavors.

Looks Like We Made It

The Class of 1985 lived the present and looked forward to the future.

The Seniors sponsored two blood drives which were both great successes. Money was raised with candy sales and concession stands.

The Senior Class also participated in a trip to Florida; individual students were responsbile for raising their own funds. The Seniors were also treated to an open lunch privilege one day out of each month.

The Class of 1985 also prepared for the future. Taking ACT tests, filling out applications, and visiting colleges, as well as completing high school requirements were all a part of near future plans.

The senior year of 1985 was one to remember.

The class selected as its motto "What we are is God's gift to us, what we become is our gift to God"; and as its hymn "God Be with You Till We Meet Again." The class colors are teal blue and ivory; and the class song is "Allies" by Heart. The class chose as its flower the baby rose.

The work for the Junior Class started long before the school year did. The class held one car wash during the summer and planned many other fund raisers for the year such as the annual magazine and candy sales, working the concession stands at the freshman basketball games, and holding the Morp Dance.

The juniors participated in three service projects. They held a Bowl-a-Thon, and the money collected was given to the area senior citizens to help them buy a bus. The juniors also spelled out EAGLES on the field. Finally, the juniors helped park cars at the home football games.

Along with the hard work, the juniors had plenty of fun while working toward their goal of "a perfect prom." They even worked hard at the student volleyball games. Their football homecoming entry "pride" float took first place, and, at the basketball homecoming, the Junior Class banner took second place.

The efforts of the Junior Class would never have been fulfilled without the help given by the two dedicated Junior Class sponsors, Mr. Ken Manwarring and Miss Cindy Scherrer.

"Don't ask them how, but guess who's back in town?" It's the class of 87, and they're on their way. "School's so easy, they barely have to try. They're the winners, so let them take the prize."

The class of 87 has earned the right to be called sophomores, but it wasn't easy. They had to make the transition to a seven hour day, really get started on earning the 23 credits needed for graduation (so very far away), order class rings, and weather the effects of the RIF/RIP budget cuts.

"They're the same people, some things never change. Only the lucky ones get to steal the show, only the lucky ones really get to know." If anyone fits this description, it's the Sophomore Class.

"Outrageous" was the word used by Lionel Richie at the 1985 American Music Association Awards ceremony upon accepting his many awards. This word also seems rather fitting for the Freshman Class of 1984 - 1985.

The class raised approximately $460 through a concession stand they ran at a karate tournament.

The class entered a float in the football homecoming parade as well as a banner in the basketball homecoming banner contest.

This year's freshman class proved that the first year in high school can be one of the best.

In Memory

of

Leslie John Fox
1967-1984

Keith E. DeClue
1966-1984

Michael D. Slankard
1967-1984

Leslie, Keith, and Mike were full of life, always doing something, whether at home or school.

They didn't get to live a full life, but the life they did live left its mark on those who knew them.

Their friends were very important to them. If they had a friend in trouble, they tried to help. Maybe the only way they could was to listen, but they always helped in any way they could.

Although, Leslie, Keith, and Mike will be missed, they will be remembered in our hearts and minds.

Lisa Hill,

Friends,

Family

We Are the World

There comes a time when we heed a certain call
When the world must come together as one

We are the world, we are the children
We are the ones who make a brighter day
So let's start giving
There's a choice we're making

We're saving our own lives
It's true we'll make a better day
Just you and me
